ORDER:

Section 80(1) of the A.P. Reorganization Act, 2014 (No.6 of 2014) envisages that the Central Government may, by order, establish one or more Advisory Committee for the purpose of assisting it in regard to:

- (a) the discharge of any of its functions relating to services; and
- (b) the ensuring of fair and equitable treatment to all persons affected by the relevant provisions under the Act and proper consideration of any representations made by such persons.

2. In the letter 2nd read above, the Government of India have envisaged the constitution of a State Reorganization Cell to act as the Nodal Office for coordinating the matters relating to State Services, including rendering assistance to the State Advisory Committees.

3. Several representations, complaints and grievances have been received from individual organizations and employees belonging to Telangana regarding continuation of services of certain employees in connection with the affairs of the State of Andhra Pradesh and orders of the Central Government to serve provisionally in connection with the affairs of State of Telangana and also as regards to final allocation of employees to the two successor states as per provisions of the A.P. Reorganization Act 2014. Government observes that there is a need to carefully examine and process these representations with reference to the provisions of the A.P. Reorganization Act 2014 and the guidelines framed by the Advisory Committee constituted there under and forward the same to the competent authority for remedial action to redress the genuine and lawful grievances of the employees.
